Selling points
We propose and provide bellows and robot covers adapted to specific environments required by customers, such as water, heat, chemical, chip, spatter, and coolant resistance.
Technology / Product details
【Bellows for medical equipment】 Lift bellows, etc. used for CT and MRI scans and dental care 【Bellows for machining equipment】 Metal telescopic covers, slats (armored covers), etc. Slats in particular are developed to have a structure in which the protective plate members can be replaced one by one (globally patented). 【Robot covers】 Robot covers are designed to follow the complex movement of robots by using the latest 3D equipment. Employing our own processing technology and using a special stretchy fabric have allowed for the creation of smart forms, like tailor-made suits.

Main equipment
Multitasking laser processing machine, bending machine, various fusing/welding machines, 3D printer, 3D scanner, etc.
